

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3

"California Imagination" is the theme of the eighth annual CALIFORNIA ARTS DAY, Friday, October 3. California is rich in the arts and culture, and California Arts Day is the time to recognize the importance of creativity and imagination to the Golden State. "California Imagination" represents the vastness, diversity and creativity of California, said Muriel Johnson, Director of the California Arts Council. And the arts are an essential quality-of-life element in healthy communities. To find out more about the California Arts Council go to www.cac.ca.gov

California Arts Day opens the 2008 VENTURA COUNTY ARTS WEEK, the annual ten-day celebration of the richness of the arts and culture in our county. Sponsored by the Ventura County Arts Council, this is a great time for arts lovers to find special programs for their families, and for parents to take the first step towards making the arts part of their children's lives. Ventura County Arts Week, - October 3 – 12, 2008 - recognizes the vital role the arts, such as music, theater, visual art, poetry, and dance, play in our lives. For more information on Arts Week or the arts in our communities, go to www.venturacountyartscouncil.org or call (805) 658-2213.
